Radio Controlled Slope Mower

The new Ransomes Spider is a radio controlled rotary mulching mower, specifically designed for mowing slopes up to 40°. Its unique design can offer up to six times greater productivity than a single petrol driven string trimmer. Operator exposure to vibration is eliminated and noise exposure reduced. The operator is no longer required on potentially dangerous slopes.

Designed for steep slope performance

- For the maintenance of extremely steep and inaccessible areas of semi rough grass
- Useful for roadside embankments and verges, water reservoirs and golf course semi rough areas
- Increased operator comfort
- The operator has radio control of:
 - Hydrostatic transmission
 - Forward and reverse
 - Steering, continuous 360°
 - Mower blade engagement
 - Height of cut adjustment
 - Engine Stop/Start function
